Principal's Report

House Dance Drama

Last night was the first evening performance of House Dance Drama. It was certainly exciting to see so many parents and families in attendance along with former students who returned to cheer on their Houses. A large number of students are involved and were certainly well prepared and pleased to be back performing on stage. The second performance is this evening while on Friday is Adjudication Day. The House Captains have done a wonderful job of organising the students in the House, writing scripts, planning costumes, finalising choreography and developing a cohesiveness and enjoyment among the students. They are to be commended for their work.

The Parents' Association is holding a raffle each evening. The prizes have been generously donated by families and local businesses and are quite impressive. Please buy a ticket. As well, please support the students' stall where you can buy refreshments. The funds raised will go to supporting a charity chosen by the students.

GAT

The Year 12 students undertook the GAT on 7 September. All Year 12 students and many Year 11 students sat the GAT in venues across the school. Given the new extended format this year, the students coped very well and did not seem fazed by the questions. They will be back at school for two weeks before finishing school to study in the lead up to the final exams. I wish them all the best for the next few weeks. We will farewell them formally in Week 2 next term both at school and at the valedictory dinner.

The Parents' Association

On Friday 2 September, The Parents' Association provided morning tea for staff to acknowledge the work that they do at the school. It is a lovely thought and is much appreciated by staff. Many thanks to the members of The Parents' Association for their support of the staff at the College.

Rotary Club of Canterbury request for donations

The Rotary Club of Canterbury is requesting donations for their project "Undies for the Ukraine" to supply underwear to Ukrainians. Donations can be left at the Office.

Building works

The building works for the new flexible learning and recreation space are continuing.

Enrolments and exits

Canterbury Girls' Secondary College is now accepting applications for enrolments into Years 8 to 12 for 2023. If you know of someone who is interested in enrolling a student, please ask them download and complete an application form available on the website. Any questions can be referred to Georgina Padula (Years 8 and 9) or Jim Ouliaris (Years 10-12). If you know that your child is leaving at the end of this year, please let the relevant level co-ordinator know so that we are able to offer the enrolment to another student.

As this is the last newsletter for the term, I wish everyone a relaxing and enjoyable break.

Year 8 Phillip Island Camp

Throughout the entirety of being guests at the Phillip Island Adventure Camp, we were able to experience a multitude of activities, such as:

- The Giant Swing, where we were hoisted 18 metres above ground before dropping into a swinging motion.
- Flying Fox, where we were suspended above ground at a height of 10 metres and travelled 200 metres down a hill.
- Canoeing, where we learned how to canoe and played games on the lake.
- High Ropes, where we were challenged to complete obstacles whilst suspended on a ropes course metres above the ground.
- Low Ropes and the Boulder wall, where we had to complete a course without touching the ground
- Team Rescue, where we had to use teamwork, communication and strategies to complete a course to rescue our patient.
- Archery

We met new people and gained new skills, as well as occasionally conquered fears by stepping out of our comfort zones. We improved our team communication skills that taught us an even better sense of teamwork and sportsmanship. We had a great time!

Japanese Speech Competition

Omedetou (congratulations) to the five Canterbury students who participated in the JLTAV Japanese Speech Competition at the Hawthorn Arts Centre on Sunday 28 August.

Eliesha De Silva competed in the Year 9&10 Individual Section, Lauren Alberti competed in the Year 7&8 Individual Section, Bella Chen and Charlie Harbison competed in the Year 7&8 Pair Division and Natasha Itami competed in the Open Section. All students had to recite a set speech as well as an original speech of their own creation.

Public speaking is quite nerve-racking in English, let alone Japanese! Well done to all students for participating in this event.

Scotch College Legal Moot

On Friday 2 September, sixteen students from Canterbury's VCE Legal Studies classes attended a friendly interschool moot (mock trial) held at Scotch College. We were given a negligence case on appeal, regarding a 17-year-old girl suing the police. Leading up to the moot, we worked hard in order to find arguments, compare our case with similar precedents, and organise our arguments that we were going to present to the judge in our mock trial.

The day of the moot began with a presentation from the Honorable Justice Alister McNab, who spoke about his role as a Family Court Justice. Following this, the mooting began. The Year 11 team were against Trinity Grammar School, and the Year 12 team against Fintona Girls' School. Well done to Sanuki De Soysa, Grace Tatlis and Madeleine Rea (Year 11 Team) and Ashley Keenan, Arnavi Roy and Arabella Von Brunn who acted as barristers and solicitors and spoke on behalf of Canterbury in their moots!

To conclude the day, all school students gathered for a final presentation, which included advocacy awards, thank you speeches, and feedback surveys. The day was an enormous success, and a great experience for everybody involved. Our teams were very confident and prepared and presented brilliantly. A big thank you to Scotch Collage for hosting the event, and to Ms Sevas and Mr Rattan for their support and encouragement on the day and to Ms Sevas for providing us with such a great opportunity and for the time and effort put in to prepare us for the event.

We would also like to thank all students that were involved in the countless lunchtime sessions who helped read all past precedents as well as the facts of the case multiple times to find loopholes, arguments and facts we could use to convince the judge to decide in our favour!

We know that we truly enjoyed it and we hope other CGSC students also participate in the coming years too.

BOOK CHAT
with Nina Toal

Growing up, my brother and I were lucky enough to be read to every night by my father. He would turn story time sessions into a make-believe radio show which even had a little jingle. Dad read us The Hobbit, The Chronicles of Narnia, The Three Musketeers and Robinson Crusoe in their entirety and with different voices for each character. Needless to say, I loved this time and soon I was staying up all night with my itty-bitty-book-light reading to myself – I started with Choose Your Own Adventure titles like Return to Atlantis, The Cave of Time and Vampire Express. I took delight in the delicious nastiness of Roald Dahl, and I sought to solve the mysteries investigated by Blyton's Famous Five. As a 12-year-old, my mother gave me The Great Deeds of Super Heroines written by Maurice Saxby with the most beautiful illustrations by Robert Ingpen which, looking back at it, acted as the beginning of my love of ancient Greek and Roman culture. As I matured, I gravitated not towards single authors, but towards a genre. My godmother sent me a copy of Daphne Du Maurier's Rebecca and like a spark to a flame, I was obsessed with everything Gothic. I latched on to the Brontës, devouring Jane Eyre and The Tenant of Wildfell Hall but my first attempt at reading Wuthering Heights was unfinished as I was too heartbroken to continue past the first quarter – I came back to this later and am very pleased I did. Frankenstein left me desolate, but Dracula was my life blood for a good month.

As an adult the pull to the Gothic is still there but I have expanded my reading. Recently, I have loved Tara June Winch's The Yield, Diana Reid's Love and Virtue, Lisa Taddeo's Animal and anything by Jeanette Winterson – The Passion and Oranges are not the only Fruit as standouts. One of the most enjoyable books I have read lately is Mexican Gothic by Silvia Moreno-Garcia. Set in the 1950s in Mexico, it is about Noemi Tabaoda, a high society sass-pot who is sent to visit her cousin who has been sending very troubling letters claiming her husband, Virgil Doyle, is trying to poison her. What follows is a labyrinthine romp in which Noemi is pitted against the decrepit patriarch of the Doyle family silver mine – which has had its fair share of tragedy. At times pulpy, at others thoroughly horrifying, but always this is edge-of-your-seat stuff. 5 stars from me!

Sport Report

Staff vs Year 12 Competition

Throughout this year, the teachers have competed against the Year 12s in a number of different sporting events. The most recent events were soccer and basketball, which occurred over the last two weeks. A lot of students and teachers came to play and support and both matches were really close games and were extremely fun. The soccer was played inside the new gym with 6 players on the field including a goalie. Teachers took the early lead with a few goals from Mr Simopoulos and then there was no looking back. The teachers were victorious with a 7-2 win over the Year 12s.

We also competed against the Year 12s in basketball. It was a very close game throughout with teachers showing off their skills, but they just could not hold off the Year 12s with them coming back from 5 points down in the last 3 minutes to win by 1 point. The final score was 18-17 with the win going to the Year 12s.

A special thank you to all staff and Year 12s that participated or assisted in these events.

The current score is 3 wins to the teachers and 3 wins to the students. We will have one final event before the end of the year to determine a winner for 2022.

Year 12 Soccer Team consisted of Kristen Vassos, Angelique Tsimiklis, Liv McCredie, Lily Blayney, Sienna Regos, Ally Rodger, Charlotte Bayles, Lani Edis, Isabelle Yeap, Grace Adams and Tash Latka.

Year 12 Basketball Team consisted of Tash Latka, Lily Blayney, Liv McCredie, Emily Burn, Kristen Vassos, Mia Hamilton and Imogen McKendry.

Alpine Giant Slalom

The Alpine Giant Slalom racecourse is down a steep slope and is set up with red and blue poles that you have to weave in and out of. You have two timed runs down the course and the goal is to get down to the bottom as fast as possible each time without missing any of the poles. The racecourse on the day was very icy, which made skiing much more challenging than usual and many of the skiers fell over during their runs. I was a bit nervous in my first run, but more confident and faster in my second run (especially as it was a little less icy later in the morning). Overall, I am proud of my result, and it was a great experience.

Ski Cross

Ski cross is a newer type of race that incorporates big turn-banks and some jumps. You ski as an individual and try to get down the course as fast as possible without falling over the jumps. The racecourse was really fun and I enjoyed the different instances, and I was able to finish in the top half of the field.

Snowboard Giant Slalom & Snowboard Boardercross

At the end of August, we represented Canterbury Girls' Secondary College in the Victorian Snowsports Interschools competitions held at Mt Buller. I competed in Boardercross and Giant Slalom. I placed in the Top 6 in each event, qualifying for The National Australian Snowsports held in Perisher NSW.

I am very proud of my result, and the whole experience was really fun. I love going fast down the challenging courses! It is a real adrenaline rush! I cannot wait for next year.

Dear Parents and Carers,

House Dance Drama

It has been a busy few weeks, collecting and collating the donations for the Dance Drama Raffles for each night this week. It was wonderful to see so many families, present and past, donate so generously. Thanks to the co-ordination of Vice-President Christine Harkness and Stephanie Towers for contacting businesses for their overwhelming contributions. Sue Natoli and I had the task of wrapping and organising the Hamper Prizes for each night on Monday at school, and this is definitely not a skill I possess. I would love someone with an artistic flair to volunteer for this role next year.

We were able to offer 9 definitive prizes for each night, including a guitar, real estate hampers, vouchers for hair & beauty, spectacles, butcher, physio and gym plus art classes as well as chocolates, books, candle, jewellery, and Monopoly games. Total prize value was more than $5000.

A very special thank you to all families including Lila Goold, Christine McKenzie, Virginia Bowley to name a few. Also, thank you to all local businesses who donated so generously including:

Nextwave Youth Film Competition Transforms in 2022

Australia's Screenwave International Film Festival (SWIFF) presents its eighth annual Nextwave program in 2022, providing filmmaking know-how with its Nextwave Online education platform. Plus, a real-world film competition experience for all young Australians aged 10 to 25 at SWIFF's premiere Nextwave Youth Film Awards gala event.

This year's Nextwave competition is now open nationally, with filmmakers invited to submit their films in line with the entry criteria via Film Freeway.

All films must be under five minutes, include a green item, and include the theme of transformation.

The submission deadline for entries is 11:59pm on Tuesday, October 25th, 2022.

Nextwave's competition is one of the largest youth film competitions in Australia, offering over $20,000 in prizes and trophies awarded each year from Blackmagic Design, Rode, and Skullcandy, and last year attracting short film entries from every State in Australia, with films judged in age categories.

The best short films will be selected and screened in front of packed crowds at the Nextwave Youth Film Awards, which will be held during Coffs Harbour's Screenwave International Film Festival in Autumn 2023.

For those individuals and schools wanting an edge, the Nextwave Online program provides start-to-end filmmaking education without prior filmmaking experience required. Nextwave Online is a 10-part series of 20-minute modules that teach the ins and outs of beginner filmmaking from story, to scriptwriting, to pre-production, filming, editing, and sound design – everything you need to make your first short films.

The program is designed to be taught in a classroom environment over one school term, without prior teaching experience required. Nextwave Online does all the heavy lifting by providing all practical activities, companion guides, and teachers' resources for each episode, in addition to the course content. The program is now being used at schools in all Australian States and Territories.

Nextwave Online is available for schools and individuals via subscription at www.nextwavefilm.com.au, along with the competition entry form and guidelines for the 2022 Nextwave short film competition.

"My students this semester are getting really excited about making their films! I've been working through the Nextwave Online workshops with them and they are really enjoying watching the previous entries that are included." – Secondary College Teacher, Victoria.

Nextwave is proudly presented by Coffs Harbour's Screenwave International Film Festival, and co-presented by Southern Cross University, and supported by the NSW State Government through the Stronger Country Communities Fund, Blackmagic Design, and local councils around Australia.
